DID YOU KNOW?

According to the Colorado District Attorneys' Council, the recidivism rate for women in Colorado is 50%.

We want to change the narrative with our Second Chance Mothers Program.

- i Most female offenders are mothers, and visits with their children can be vital in motivating them to change their behavior and eventually reduce their risk of recidivism. Understanding how such family-based issues impact women offenders is essential in selecting appropriate treatment programs that can ensure the best outcomes for women and their children.
